

Flange Connections

Steel to HDPE Pipe

A backup ring is a metal ring used with bolts to make a secure connection to a pipe flange, a pump or valve.

A flange adapter is a solid piece of HDPE material that is sized to be used with the backup ring to make a flanged connection to another pipe flange, a pump or valve.

HDPE to HDPE Pipe

